How to Create Paid Recorded Sessions and Resources

This article describes how to give paid access to resources and recorded sessions.

Electa Live does not provide a direct option to require payments from students for playback of recordings like it does for online events and courses.

You can still arrange paid access to recorded classes and files from your resource library though the help of the Course Manager. You can do so by creating a paid course and adding the recorded sessions and files to it.

So your users will get access to the resources recording(s) after purchasing access to your course. See how to add resources to your online courses here.
